Carry the people to safety. Apparently, I had it partly wrong. Who knew my life would be the flint, the spark, to inflamed unnumbered people, even strangers across this borderless country, with a passionate love for living? No small grease fire, it became a forest fire - rolling, boiling, spreading with a life of it's own. ("Time has flown. People we've known - need to be shown love.") The infectious, prickly heat of new-found respect for the power of God (that same God who conceptualized fire - "In the Beginning...". You know - I just watched.
