ORGAN, Ora Elmer

“The Kinmundy Express” May 21, 1953: Ora Elmer ORGAN: Ora Elmer ORGAN, son of William and Mary (HEADLEY) ORGAN was born in Marion Co., Ill. on Jan. 16, 1873 and died Apr. 29, 1953. He had only been ill for about 10 days. He died at the home of his niece, Mrs. Thomas DOUDERA, with whom he had lived for the past few years. Elmer was of a family of 13 children, 10 boys and 3 girls. Preceding him in death has been his mother, father, 8 brothers, and 3 sisters. He leaves 1 brother, Henry ORGAN of Sandoval, and a host of nephews and nieces. He had lived in the community of Alma, in the same home from which he passed away for many years with a sister, Miss Dora, who died Oct. 1942. He had never been married and never united with any church. Services were held May 8 from the Linton Funeral Home, Rev. Angus PHILLIPS, officiating, with interment in Allmon Cemetery.

RHOADES, Susan Cathrine

Susan Catherine Rhoades, daughter of Solomon and Sarah Westhaven Rhoades was born in Wood Co., Ohio, Feb. 1, 1864, and departed this life June 7, 1946, at the age of 82 years. We feel that this to her was not sad, but a long-anticipated and hoped-for-journey. Her mind seemed never quite clear as to why she should be the only one left of her father’s family, and to be here alone so long. Katie was a dutiful daughter and remained in the home after her sister and brothers had made homes of their own, taking care of the father through a long illness and the mother through a ripe old age, then 21 years of home alone. Her father’s family came from Ohio to Illinois in 1883 settling in Tonti twp. Some years after the fathers death she and her mother moved to Alma where Kate with her amiable disposition, her sense of humor and her pleasure in meeting her friends made a halo of cheerfulness about her. She was firm in her conviction of what was right and wrong, honest and square in all business transactions, and could not be tempted from doing the right as she saw the right. Kate was a firm believer in a Higher Power who rules our destiny, and when with those she loved she freely gave her testimony and affirmed her faith in God. There are a number of nieces and nephews who will cherish fond memories of Aunt Kate and miss her now that she is gone.

SULLENS, Infant

“The Kinmundy Express” - Jan. 24, 1935 - Green Ridge: The little son of Burl SULLENS died Tuesday aged 14 days. Interment was made in Allmon Cemetery.

Tonti Township history

“Britton SMITH, one of the old settlers in this township, says, when he came to Marion county in 1829, there were seven families living in what is now Tonti township, as follows: The widow PURSLEY, William MARSHALL, Thomas ALLMON, John EDDINGTON, Ross JONES, John DAVIDSON and Robert NICHOLS, William MARSHALL was from Tennessee. He settled in the east part of the township about 1823, and afterwards bought the improvements of William NICHOLS, where he resided several years. He was a man of some education, and taught school here as early as 1825. He was for many years a justice of the peace, and was also the fiddler of the neighborhood. It is said of him that often when a marriage was to take place in the neighborhood, he would take his fiddle under his arm, and walk to the place where he was to perform the marriage-ceremony, marry the happy couple, and then play for the merry dancers all night. He was full of mirth and fun, and would always enter into the festivities with as much zeal as any of the younger men. He represented the county in the legislature, and was the first county surveyor. About 1838 he sold out in this settlement, and moved to what is now Carrigan township. He raised a large family, and resided at the latter place until his death.” (“The History of Clinton and Marion Counties, Illinois – 1881 – Tonti Township” - by Brink, McDonough & Co.)

John DAVIDSON settled in the south-west part of the township in 1828, where he lived many years. He afterwards moved to what is now Carrigan township, where he died.

Robert NICHOLS, the oldest of fourteen brothers and four sisters, several of whom settled in this county, located in the north-west part of the township, where he improved a farm in 1823, and resided until his death in 1836.

William NICHOLS settled in the north-east part of the township in 1823. He owned a slave, and in 1826 moved to Missouri. Wm. MARSHALL bought his improvements. The place afterwards fell into the hands of John S. MARTIN, who lived here for many years. MARTIN was an enterprising and intelligent man, and came here with some considerable means. At one time he owned about two thousand acres of land in this vicinity, and for many years filled the office of Justice of the Peace. He died at Alma in 1865.

Abraham SMITH located on section twenty in 1831. He lived near Salem one year prior to this. He died on the Vandalia and Salem road, on section ten, in 1854. He raised a family of five sons and two daughters. Five of the family are yet living. Two were then single men, aged twenty-six and eighteen--the former married and subsequently settled in Foster township, 1832, where he now resides. The latter drove stage, worked by the month, and kept a grocery store at Salem until 1837. He then married, and the same year bought an improvement on section twenty-eight, where he lived until 1840. He then settled on section five, where he still resides.

Israel JENNINGS, Jr., whose father was one of the early residents in the vicinity of Walnut Hill, entered the west half of the north-west quarter of section thirty-one, where he improved a good farm. He was twice married, accumulated a good estate here, and at his death left a large family of children.

James BLACK, Jr., a native of Maryland, from Kentucky here, settled on section seventeen in 1831. In August of the same year he entered eight acres, where his cabin stood; the following year he put up a horse mill, which he continued to run until his death in 1834. He raised a family of ten children, six now living. Robert K. BLACK settled the farm where he now lives in 1839; for many years after the death of his father he ran the Black horse mill. He has raised a family of eight sons, all residents of the county. (“The History of Clinton and Marion Counties, Illinois – 1881 – Tonti Township” - by Brink, McDonough & Co.)

Mrs David W. ALLMON, Mrs Hiram ALLMON, and Mrs. Van T. TURNER are widows; Robert K., Thomas J., and Francis M.; they are now residents of this county, except Thomas J., who lives in Utah.

("The History of Clinton and Marion Counties, Illinois – 1881 – Tonti Township" - by Brink, McDonough & Co.)

J. D. GRAY located on section seventeen about 1840. He filled the office of Justice of the peace for several years, and was a minister of the Methodist church.

Lemuel BALLANCE came here in 1836, and entered forty acres in section thirty-three the spring of the same year; he afterwards improved a second place on section seventeen, where he died.

James R. TALBERT, a native of Virginia, settled in teh west part of the township in 840; he improved a farm and lived here many years; he afterwards moved to Tonti station and improved a place. He raised a family of ten children, five now living. He died November 26, 1874; his widow survives him and lives in Carrigan township. Other early settlers here are James McHANEY, George and Samuel DAVIDSON, Hiram, L. D. and Jackson ALLMON, John SULLENS, John AUGLAND, Edward COLE, Thomas J. BORNING, T. D. WILLIAMSON and Frank PARKER.

The first school-house was a log building on section ten; it stood in the heavy timber and quite a distance from any residence. It was built about 1824. William MARSHLL was the first teacher. Other early teachers were William B. HADDEN and R. K. BLACK.

The Baptist denomination built the first church on section ten, a log building. It has since been replaced by a neat frame building.
